

NOW PLAYING

The Journal of Adventist Education

The award-winning journal for Seventh-day Adventist teachers, administrators, and anyone else interested in quality Christian education, is now available in an all-digital format, FREE. As of January 2017, all editions of the Journal can be accessed via the new Journal of Adventist Education App.

Use the App to search current and archived articles by author, issue, word, or phrase, select a preferred language, and much more.

Designed for the busy educator and administrator, the Journal offers cutting-edge professional articles that help an international audience of Christian professionals, Kindergarten through Higher Education, to navigate trends in education and to integrate faith in the learning environment.

Download our App today and engage with Adventist educators worldwide!

